Dear Jim,

When you people break a freeze or have a fog you sure do it up! The plane didn't leave until 3 or 4 hours after it was due in Washington. And I'd gotten up and gone there early because my more severely damaged leg was bothering me and I thought moving around would be better for it. You do have a nice and clean if not inexpensive airport. I was there longer than I can ever remeber being in one.

My other expenses, in each case including tips, are

cabs	$14.00
food,drink	14.96
mileage	15.00
	$43.96

This covers two full days, the time required. I had to get started 5 a.m. the day of the taping and it was after 7 the next night when I got home.

Please protect the slides when you mail them back.

Should any of your viewers feel impelled to assist in the cost of bringing all the suppressed evidence to light I think you might feel better not sending any of the contributions, if any, to me. I have a trust account in a Washington bank with my lawyer writing all the checks, all for xeroxing and court costs. His name is James H. Lesar, 910 16 St., NW, Washington, D.C. 20006. If you would prefer to send any directly to him, assuming there are any, please do.

Should you ever develop any questions about how I get these records I have a rather large collection of confirming letters signed by Clarence Kelley. The court transcripts in that case are several inches thick. And there are copious affidavits.

Hope you think you have a good show. I'd like to hear it and the committee people who are to follow.

Best wishes,

Harold Weisberg
